Putting it simply, I truly believe that Martin Luther King Jr. was a hero. He portrayed his qualities by living to his beliefs. He wanted to end segregation for good. Martin Luther King Jr. wanted both blacks and whites to be able to go to school together. In other words, these are the reasons I think Martin Luther King Jr. was a hero by ending segregation and portrayed these qualities. He once said "No person has the right to rain on your dreams", which means that no person should have the right to go around mistreating one another, to me.

Positively, Martin Luther King Jr. always stood up for what he believed in. He always preached for nonviolence. He believed that no man should be separated by skin color. Martin Luther King Jr. always stayed persistent. He knew that what was going on was not right. In other words, Martin Luther King Jr. always stood up for his beliefs. For example, just because of committing to his beliefs, he won the Nobel Peace Prize awarded with $54,000.

Furthermore, Martin Luther King Jr. never lost faith in what he believed in. He even got jailed many times for disobeying unjust laws. He had always stayed positive. Martin Luther King Jr. showed a lot of perseverance. He felt like hatred was not right. "Hate destroys the hater," Martin Luther King Jr. In short, Martin Luther King Jr. never lost faith in what he believed in.

In addition, Martin Luther King Jr. never hesitated to inspire others. He was committed to his actions and words. He kept moving forward. It was like Martin Luther King Jr. was unstoppable. He was never afraid to share his feelings. "Peace is more precious than diamonds or silver or gold," Martin Luther King Jr. "The time is always right to do what is right," Martin Luther King Jr. As a result, Martin Luther King Jr. was very committed to his actions and words. Committed, brave, and strong are heroes, in my opinion.

He portrayed these qualities by living to his beliefs. Martin Luther King Jr. always fought for what was right. He shared his opinion and inspired others to do this peacefully. Martin Luther King Jr. always fought for equality. This is why I truly believe that Martin Luther King Jr. is a hero and portrayed his qualities of a hero." In the end, we will remember not the words of our enemies, but the silence of our friends." Martin Luther King Jr.
